Marketing Campaign Flow

Follow the bands left to right. Plum is Marketing, who owns the brief, the budget and every gate. The band splits into Events (terracotta) and Social Media (sage) wherever the sub-departments execute, and rejoins at each Marketing decision.

Rules that keep it moving

One brief, one budget, one calendar, all owned by Marketing.

Approvals only at the gates. Inside a stage, sub-leads decide.

Date or budget changes go to Marketing first, then to both subs the same day.

Every campaign ends with a report, even small ones. It feeds the next brief.

Marketing (head) · Events · Social Media · Gate: Marketing approval · Handoff between sub-departments